God's Kingdom Building: Josh & Kristi, serving in Kenya

Update from Aug 11

Thank you so very much for praying for us this summer as we've been home unexpectedly taking care of Kristi's mom, Lynn. She was able to move from rehab to her new independent living apartment

We began our long journey home, flying out of DC for Dubai, and then on to Kenya.

Thank you for praying for us as we traveled to our debrief time as a family. It was such a sweet and hard time as we unpacked the last few years. God really met us in personal and special ways. We arrived pretty worn down, fatigued, and depleted on every front and we feel like we left much lighter and renewed. We hope to share more of our take aways in our next newsletter.

Yesterday, the three of us closed up Kristi's parents' house and did one last walk through before getting in the car to leave for DC. It hit us harder than expected, especially for Rylie. So many memories, both good and hard, were made in this house. It has been the one consistent place we have lived when not overseas and the place Rylie has really connected with when in the US. We are thankful for the consistency over the years, especially for Rylie. Pray for us as we grieve this loss.
