A Man After God's Own Heart

King David is one of the most inspirational characters in the bible; battling the giant Goliath, running from King Saul, leading an army in victory after victory and even falling to the temptation of Bathsheba.

He appears to be a man's man, full of courage and valor yet he plays the harp. I don't get that. But there is something about reading the Psalms that really get me. When David writes to God I can relate to his words. He seems able to express a range of thoughts and feelings that can be difficult for the rest of us to pinpoint in our lives. Yet, you read some of his words and it hits you right in the heart. I will admit there are some Psalms I just don't get!

This summer we will spend some time each Sunday looking at David's life and a Psalm that came out of the experience we study. Such as did you know David wrote a Psalm after he killed Goliath, another after Nathan confronted David over his sin with Bathsheba. In fact that is where we get the song Create in Me a Clean Heart. But we will not look at all the Psalms, did you know there are 150 Psalms and only 73 were written by David. Of those we don't even know the circumstance for each one.

One question you may be asking is "what is a Psalm?" The Psalms are spiritual journals written to God. They are not written to us yet we are able to gain great insight into a deep relationship with God by reading them. That is why in some psalms the words are from a deep worshiper and in other the words sound like they are coming from the world's greatest whiner.

But understand David didn't have an easy life and that is why some of his psalms portray him crying out to God. Just a quick over view of his life David was about 15 or 16 or maybe 17 years old when he was anointed King. He killed Goliath a year later. He was 30 years old when Saul died and David became King over Judah. (2 Samuel 5:4)

So David had to wait about 13 years to become king over anything, at first he was only king over the area of Judah. And he had to wait another 7 ½ years before he becomes king over all Israel.

He has no capital city so he has to capture one and subdue it. In other words his life is full of obstacles. Did he give up on God? Did he stop going to church? Did he stop seeking God? No and the Psalms are therefore recordings of his conversations with God.

I trust this summer you will join us as we look to David and learn how to converse with God.

New Children's Ministry Director

I am pleased to announce Kim Marcus has been hired as our first Children's Ministry Director. Kim is no stranger to FBCC! She has served as our AWANA Commander for the past 5 years, leading our AWANA to awesome growth and great volunteer involvement.

What made the decision to hire Kim an easy one is her genuine love for Jesus and for children. Her heart is to see children (and families) come to know Jesus, grow in their faith and connect here at FBCC. In her years of ministry here she has organized our AWANA program by involving many, many new people in the program. Not only do people get involved, they get empowered! People have told me Kim has a way of making you feel like you can do something you have never done before.

You may ask, "Why do we need to hire someone?"

Closed for lunch 12:00 to 1:00 P.M.

Well the reason is simple...the program is just too large for one volunteer! We have Sunday school, nursery, Children's Church and AWANA – that's many kids and many volunteers to manage. We have dedicated volunteers that serve in our children's program and these ongoing ministries really need a point person for coordination and communication. The only question is, "What took us so long to realize we needed this?"

What will this mean? Her primary function will be to direct our main ministries: Sunday school, AWANA, and Children's Church (not be the hands on person in each area). Kim has some ideas for a few new things for our children and we are excited to see how God is going to use her passion and creativity! Please be praying for Kim and our Children's Ministries as we seek God's direction.

P.S. Kim has served as the church librarian, but will no longer be able to do both so we will need a new librarian to step into this position. Kim is also one of our bell ringers which she expects to continue.

Ministry Fair

We will be having our Spring fair on Sunday, June 12 before both services. If you have never been to a Ministry fair, it is a place to get a look at all our ministry opportunities and to sign up to join a ministry team.

Those of you who are ministry leaders and are setting up a table/

booth please come set up your space on Saturday, June 11, between 10:00 AM and 2:00 PM

Additionally please have some sort of hand out to help people learn more about your area of ministry. Someone from your ministry team needs to be at your table during the fair.

4th Annual BBQ Cook Off and Fundraiser

It's that time of year again. Smoke, Sauce, Competition, Fellowship.

On July 2, FBCCMU will host the 4th annual BBQ cook-off fundraiser at First Baptist Church.

The fierce but friendly competition will consist of two "smoldering" categories: chicken in one corner with ribs in the other. Prizes and bragging rites will be awarded for each category.

Cooks will start cooking in the morning with dinner and judging to follow at 5:30 PM.

The fun continues after dinner when we'll auction off an assortment of tasty homemade deserts.

IN HIS GRIP

Well it is that time of year that really gets very busy for all of us. Baseball, vacation, school finishing, all the things that get rolled into one. Oh did I mention Summer Church Activities and church picnics and parades and, and who knows what else. How do we ever get it all done?

While I have been thinking about all of those things, God has been working on me about some other things which I need to share with you because you are so very important to me.

On Sunday June 12, before and following each worship service; we will have a Ministry Fair. This is a time of sharing the ministry you are involved in and also to learn of places of service in the church. Remember Ministry is the service you render within the body of believers, the church and Mission is that service you perform, with the primary focus being evangelism, outside the body.

If you are involved in a ministry please complete a Ministry Fair Registration form so we can be sure you have a table space. We will be setting up for the fair on Saturday June 11, between 10:00 AM and 2 PM. You set up a table space and copies of the description of your ministry for anyone interested in joining you. Remember, everything you do in the church, as service is a ministry!! Some fold bulletins, some clean the pews each week, some teach classes, some greet, some usher (is that a word?), some work with youth, some work in the kitchen, some, well you get the idea, everything you do in the church as service is a ministry.

I am excited by what I see happening in our small groups! So many of you are actively involved. I know that for many of you this means time away from home and "another night out". My hope is that the benefit of your group involvement far outweighs the sacrifice.

That said, I want to invite each group to a Luke 11:28 challenge! Jesus tells us to be not only hearers of the word but to be doers. We sometimes enjoy our group and our time in the word so much that we tend to forget that Jesus has called us to follow him in being about the Father's business. Take time in your groups to discuss what your group might do as a ministry within the community. We have one group that sponsors our Blood Drive another that visits our-home bound or those living in managed care facilities. Not only are people blessed by these ministries BUT the group members are doubly blessed.

Here is an idea for you who are in small groups. Send me your "victory" stories and your information about what you are doing as a group. I recently heard about one group that went on a hike together!! Now that's dedication. Another group recently had a group pot luck and had more people than ever before.

Some of our groups have asked about materials that can be used in groups, we have gathered information and materials you can look at and decide if they will work for you. Some of them have been used by other groups and you can ask them how they worked.

Well enough for this time.

God Bless you each and every one.

Worship is.

. . . ..Teaching our Children. Really, you say? This is worship? Everything we do, say or think, remember? Well, one of our greatest responsibilities is teaching our children and helping to shape their character. What we say and do and how we live out our lives, models character to our children. when we sit down and spend time with them and having conversations with them is even more important. Eph. 1:11 (NIV) says "In him we were also chosen, having been predestined according to the plan of him who works out everything in conformity with the purpose of his will". Perhaps the reference is easier to understand in The Message "It is in Christ that we find out who we are and what we are living for. . .part of the overall purpose he is working out in everything and everyone". Our kids need to know that the person they become is more important than what they do. Why? They won't take their career into heaven, but they will take their character. Everything they experience helps them to build their character. We need to be sure our kids understand that this life is preparation for the next. It's the "get ready" stage, if you will. We can teach our kids that their time here on earth with all its good times and challenging times is where we learn all the lessons that make us who we are. Of course, the goal is to become more like Christ. It's a BIG job, but we are responsible for the teaching and training of our children from the day they are born. They need to know that God put them here to make a contribution, not just take up space playing video games or watching TV. Eph. 2:10 "For we are created in Christ Jesus to do good works, which God prepared in advance for us to do". Only in giving our lives away do we learn what life is all about. We must model to our children that character is who they are, not what they do, and pray for them daily. Think about it.

Blessings

DOWN ON THE FARM –BREAKING THROUGH

Waiting for ducklings to hatch is an exercise in anticipation. Each trip Mike and I make to the shed is weighted with curiosity and hope. Will we see another pip, the first crack, in one of the eggs? Have any cracked further? Are any ducklings free of the shell, just waiting to go into the brooder? Our duck-watch is like having a pile of presents and just waiting for permission to start unwrapping!

For thirty days, Mike and I have faithfully followed the directions that came with our new incubator. Marking the eggs with an “X” on one side and an “O” on the opposite side helps us to know whether we’ve turned them once or twice during the day. We use a turkey baster to add water inside the box to keep the humidity high. The vigilance pays off as we hear the tip-tap-tip from inside the eggshell.

Even before they can be seen, we hear them peeping as they journey toward open air. Each egg, once breached, cracks and cracks again, to finally reveal a glimpse of damp-darkened yellow feathers. We watch the rise and fall of their breathing as they rest between their efforts to free themselves. Some pop free cleanly, others struggle to break loose a bit at a time.

I’m tempted to help the ducklings, to pull away the shell and clean them up, and then put them under a heat lamp. But the reality is that “helping” them would be a disservice. The process they are experiencing is designed to strengthen them and preparing them for life in the world. Even half-in and half-out of the shell, they are still using nutrients from the last remnants of yolk as fuel for their efforts. Still, it is hard to hold back and watch them struggle.

As they finally free themselves, they look exhausted and gaunt. The little bones of body, wing and leg show through their un-fluffed feathers as they lie there, waiting for the energy to stand, then walk. As the yellow down dries and brightens, they begin to look less like refugees and more like the ducks they will become. Within hours of being placed in the brooder box, they are eating, drinking and exploring their new home.

New life, be it duckling, lamb, kitten or calf, reminds us of the intricacy of God’s creation and how we are connected to it. Each situation presents different needs, different responsibilities and different lessons to be learned.

Watching the ducklings work through their escape from the bondage of the egg reminded me of my personal journey with God. I was wrapped in a shell of experiences and teachings from a God-less world. The day I finally responded to the Holy Spirit and heard the message of God’s love and of Christ’s sacrifice for me was the “pip,” the first break. God’s Word became the nutrient that fueled my spiritual life.

It must have been a challenge for my new Christian mentors and friends to wait for me to become stronger in the Lord, to stand and walk forward in faith. They could have taken care of some of my problems but I wouldn’t have learned important lessons or made the choices that continued to improve my life and my confidence in God.

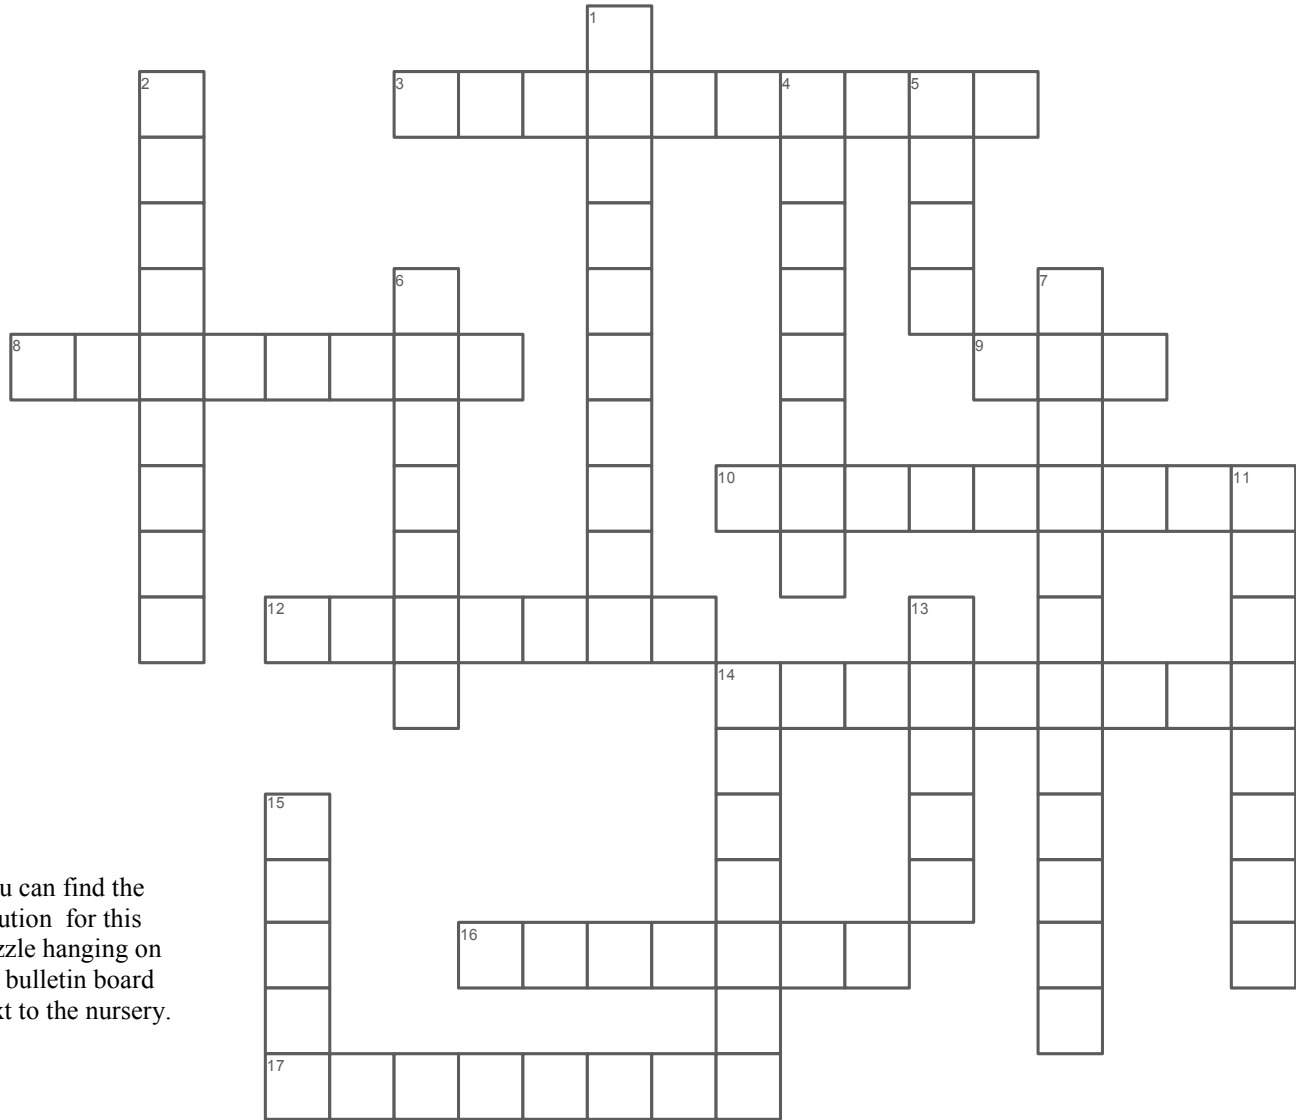

Now, as more mature Christ followers, we will have the opportunity to share these important times with new believers. We may have a word to share that gives them hope and a desire to break free. It may be our privilege to see that first breakthrough, or to encourage them as they struggle to peel away the remaining effects of their previous life. It could be our responsibility to come alongside as they learn to walk, and then stand in their faith. It will be our joy to see them set free in Christ, to celebrate the victory their new life represents.

Father, I come to You and ask that You prepare me to be available, to be willing and able to share You with someone who doesn’t know You. I ask for wisdom to know what to say and when to say it, when to help and when to hold back. Help me to see where You are already working and where I might come alongside. Thank You for the victory that is already certain, for new lives and new hope. All hope is through You and for You, for Your glory and honor. Amen.

Our prayer for Awana Club is that all children and youth throughout the world will come to know, love and serve the Lord Jesus Christ.

We get excited when we see our leaders and clubbers come to the saving grace of knowing Jesus Christ as their personal Lord and Savior. One Leader, three LIT's and three clubbers were baptized this past Awana Club season.

We have a few of our young leaders moving on to furthering their education, which has opened opportunities for Christ Followers who want to serve in Awana Club. We have openings for Leaders in: Games, Sparks (Kind. - 2nd Grade), T & T Girls and T & T Boys (3rd - 6th Grade).

Come visit us at the Awana Club table at the Ministry Fair on June 12, 2011.

Mission of the Month -

The Dominican Republic is our June Mission of the Month. This year we have an opportunity to help with a special mission project to provide clean water buckets for Batey La Javilla. One of our adopted missionaries, Kristy Engel, along with her co-worker, Madeline Flores-Lopez, minister to the bateyes.

Bateyes (bah-tays) are company towns where sugar cane workers live in the Dominican Republic. Batey La Javilla is where Yudelca lives with her seven children. Her husband works daily in the sugar cane fields to support his family

Every day Yudelca has to send her 6 oldest kids to the nearest river to collect water for cooking, bathing and drinking. The river is contaminated with bacteria and parasites, but it's their only source of water.

Project "Clean Water" will provide 200 families with a specially filtered bucket that will provide them with safe, clean water to drink. Families like Yudelca's will have better health and a better economic future because they won't have to choose between buying food or buying clean water.

Yudelca is a community leader who works alongside missionary Madeline Flores-Lopez. Yudelca tells Madeline when the water filters are dirty or need replacement.

Mission Project Specifics

This project seeks to raise $5,500 in the next year to purchase 200 buckets with special clay filters and a 5 gallon container for each family to hold the filtered water. This project will be managed by Madeline Flores-Lopez, who will educate the people on the need for safe, clean water. It is anticipated that this project will improve the overall health of the community.

Our Challenge

At $28 per bucket, how many families can we help to have a healthier life by giving to the June Mission of the Month?

Thank you for prayer for our missionaries and supporting this project.

Thank you !!!

Our church received a letter of thanks from Reid S. Trulson, Executive Director and Ray Schooler, Director of Development- Church Relations. It was addressed to Pastor Mark:

"I'd like to personally thank you and your congregation for your generous gifts to the World Mission Offering and International Ministries in 2010. ... Your church's contribution went to support the efforts of over 1700 short and long term missionaries ... in over 70 countries. Thank you especially for your faithful support of the World Mission Offering, missionaries Ed & Miriam Noyes, Mike & Jill Lowery, Kristy Engel, Bill & Ann Clemmer and Dan & Sarah Chetti as well as your support of mission projects in the Congo.

I am so pleased that because of your continued contributions through the WMO and targeted gifts for missionary support we have been able to maintain our missionary team on the field so far. We are also blessed that your support is allowing us to endorse three new Missionary families!

In this time of recovery from the Great Recession we are encouraged that at this rate we are on track to reach our goal of financial sustainability by October 1, 2013. With all of us working together we can reach that mark even sooner. Please continue to encourage your confrontation in their support for our missionaries and partners in their vital work.

We are thankful for the Partnership support of the First Baptist Church, Chehalis, WA for International ministries. Please extend our deep thanks to your congregation for their 2010 gifts."

Library News

Heaven is for Real by Todd Burpo with Lynn Vincent – Don't let the cover of this book fool you. This book has a great message of hope and encouragement that can change your perspective of this life on earth and the future. This is a biography of a four-year-old boy who emerges from life-saving surgery with remarkable stories of heaven.

Leaving by Karen Kingsbury – After winning an audition for a Broadway musical, Bailey heads for New York City. Will Cody and Bailey ever get together?

Lydia's Charm

by Wanda Brunstetter – Autumn is lovely in Amish community of Charm, Ohio; but ever since losing her husband, Lydia doesn't feel at home. When mysterious gifts start appearing on her porch, could they be from a nearby widower? Or are they from somebody else – a man who sacrificed romance in order to care for his family?

The Bride of Peace by Cindy Woodsmall - # 2 in Ada's House Series – Free-spirited schoolteacher Lena Kauffman knows her brother means well. She's spent her life laughing off others' cruel whispers about the birthmark on her face. How she looks has nothing to do with how good she is at her job! But now her work has been questioned by disgruntled parents – and her use of ideas that don't line up with the Old Ways, threatens her job.

The Waiting by Suzanne Woods Fisher – Book 2 in Lancaster County Secrets – Jorie King, a young Amish woman with hopes and dreams in the 1960's, has been anxiously waiting for Benjamin Zook, her fiance', to return home to Lancaster County so they can marry and start a family as they had planned before he left. When news arrives that Ben has been killed, Jorie finds comfort for her grief in the friendship of his brother, Caleb. The time they spend together causes their friendship to slowly ripen into love, and it seems that they are meant to be together. But when the unexpected happens, their worlds are suddenly turned upside down once more.

The Search by Suzanne Woods Fisher – Book 3 in Lancaster County Secrets – Years ago, Lainey O'Toole made a decision – and if she had known it would impact so many, she might have chosen differently. Now in her twenties, her car breaks down in the very Amish town in which her decision was made, forcing her to face the shadowed past. Bess Reihl isn't thrilled to be spending the summer working her grandmother's farm in the same town. Her labor is made tolerable by the time she spends with handsome Billy Lapp, but he has eyes for another girl.

Little do Lainey and Bess suspect that their worlds are about to collide – and the secrets that come to light will shock them both.

Under the Cajun Moon by Mindy Starns Clark – This suspense novel takes the reader through interesting places, such as: New Orleans, the French Quarter and the heart of Cajun country. Our heroine, Chloe, is framed for murder and must search for priceless treasure, one whose roots weave through the very history of Louisiana itself.

Don't Look Back by Lynette Eason – One man lives to see Jaimie dead – the other is fighting to keep her alive. Heart-stopping suspense, gritty realism and a touch of romance holds you with its twists and turns until the very last page!

How Do I Love Thee? A Novel of Elizabeth Barrett Browning's Poetic Romance by Nancy Moser – Elizabeth Barrett is a published poet – and a virtual prisoner in her own home. Blind family loyalty ties her to a tyrannical father who forbids any of his children to marry. Bedridden by chronic illness, she has resigned herself to simply existing. That is, until the letter arrives. . .

"I love your verses with all my heart," writes Robert Browning, an admiring fellow poet. As friendly correspondence gives way to something more, Elizabeth discovers that Robert's love is not for her poetry alone. Might God grant her more than mere existence? And will she risk defying her father in pursuit of true happiness?

When The Nile Runs Red by DiAnn Mills – Paul Farid, who once persecuted the southern Sudanese, now loves the weary people whose lives have been destroyed by war. Colonel Ben Alier has led his battle-hardened soldiers for two decades against the north, yet he pursues a relationship with his son even as his own demons pursue him. Dr. Larson Kerr Farid works long hours caring for the sick, but fatigue and worry about her husband are taking their toll. And she's learned something that will make everything more complicated. These three face constant danger as tensions escalate between the north and south, and Paul's family schemes to kill him and Larson. Will Paul and Larson bridge the gap that seems to grow between them? And will Ben find peace as more than a soldier?

DiAnn Mills introduces her many fans to the current struggle facing Sudan in this riveting account of war, ancient hatreds, love, and God's power. Sudan's beauty and tragedy will pierce the soul of every reader.

PRIME TIMERS

Our activities for June and July are as follows:

- ◆ Thursday, June 9 - Luncheon at the church at 12:00 P.M. (cost $4). The program will be presented by the new director of Child Evangelism Fellowship for our area.
- ◆ Thursday, June 23 - A day trip to the Columbia River Gorge. We will leave the church at 9:00 A.M. We will visit Multnomah Falls, Bonneville Dam and other special locations before riding on a stern-wheeler on the Columbia River (cost $28). Bring a picnic lunch.

- ◆ Wednesday, July 27 - We will have a picnic at the home of Jeanne Miller on Macomber Road in Chehalis. We will leave the church at 10:45 A.M. Bring dishes to share.

Signup sheets for these activities and for the Senior Adult Camp are located on the bulletin board across from the church office. Brochures for the Senior Adult camp will be available soon. We presently have 8 signed up to go.

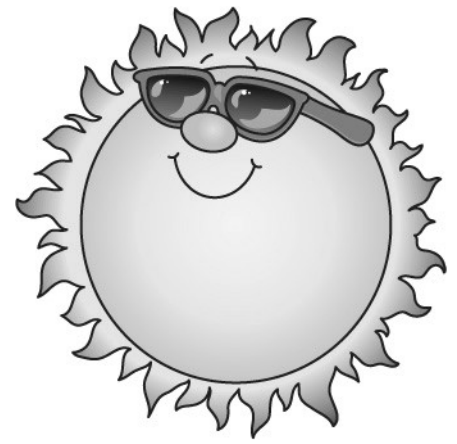

We are working on plans for August, October and November. Please give you suggestions to John Lyttle (748-4765) or (jandjlyttle@aol.com).
