INTERN GUIDELINES & COVENANT

The moral and character guidelines for Ascent Summer Interns are strict because we believe that sometimes the best way to focus is to get rid of distractions. Grace is freely given and freely received, but a part of God's grace is His discipline that leads us to repentance.

Violating the moral guidelines of the covenant once and openly repenting results in a conversation with Darius and your parents. Continuing violation of the moral guidelines will be met with gentle but firm conversations and may eventually lead to a probation from intern related activities or expulsion from the program.

VACATION

Please let Darius know as early as possible when your family will be on vacation so that plans can be made around you as much as possible for the benefit of the team.

COVENANT

This summer during Ascent Summer Internship we have the opportunity to grow a lot. God uses discipline to help us do that. Here are some of the ways God will help us grow this summer.

- ▶ No lewd or inappropriate movies, explicit or lewd music, or mature rated or lewd video games
- ▶ No inappropriate displays of public or private affection
- ▶ No viewing of pornographic material
- ▶ No foul language or inappropriate conversations
- ▶ No gossip
- ▶ No put downs, sarcasm, or disrespectful speech, no disrespectful attitudes towards parents, pastors, teachers, leaders, or other people in authority

INTERN COVENANT

Please cut this section and return to Pastor Darius on your first day of Ascent Summer Interns.

I agree that I will strive to follow the Ascent Summer Interns moral guidelines and covenant.
