OUR MISSION STATEMENT

The mission of St. Paul Lutheran Church is to promote the worship of the Triune God as revealed in Holy Scriptures, by teaching the Gospel of Jesus Christ and administering the Sacraments, in order to equip people for Christian life and service.

Pastor's Message

Dear Friends in Christ,

Have you ever waited by the phone, hoping it would ring? Maybe it was for test results from the doctor. Maybe it was a job interview. Or maybe it was a loved one you hadn't heard from in a while. You check your phone every few minutes. You leave the ringer on high. You watch. You wait. And the waiting can feel like forever.

That's where we are as a church right now. We've extended a call. We've prayed. We've hoped. And now—we wait.

Psalm 130:5–6 says, "I wait for the Lord, my soul waits, and in His word I hope; my soul waits for the Lord more than watchmen for the morning, more than watchmen for the morning."

Psalm 130 is a prayer that rises up out of the depths of trouble. The psalmist is crying out to God. He feels the weight of sin and the silence of waiting. But he doesn't run away. He doesn't take matters into his own hands. He waits on the Lord.

That's not passive waiting. It's not crossing our arms and tapping our toes in frustration. It's hopeful waiting—trusting that the Lord is faithful, that His mercy is real, and that His timing is always better than ours.

The malady in this psalm—the pain—is that we're often overwhelmed by what we can't control. In our sin, we try to grab hold of everything and force our own solutions. We get anxious, we get restless, and sometimes we doubt that God is really paying attention. It's hard to wait when your heart is tired.

But listen to what comes next: "If you, O Lord, should mark iniquities, O Lord, who could stand? But with you there is forgiveness, that you may be feared." (vv. 3–4) That's the Gospel. That's our hope.

Even when we are deep in worry, or guilt, or confusion, God does not count our sins against us. Through the cross of Jesus Christ, God has already answered our greatest need. Jesus descended into the very depths of sin and death to lift us up with forgiveness. Because of Him, we are not abandoned. Because of Him, we have mercy.

If God has not failed us at the cross, He will not fail us now. Even in a season of uncertainty, His Word gives us a rock-solid promise.

So what do we do while we wait? We keep trusting His Word. We keep praying for our called pastor. We keep serving one another. We keep proclaiming the Gospel, because Jesus hasn't stopped being our Shepherd—even as we wait for an under-shepherd.

The vacancy may not be over yet. The answer hasn't come. But the Lord has come—and He will not leave us. Jesus is still building His Church. His mercy is still flowing. And His morning will come.

Prayer: Lord Jesus Christ, out of the depths we cry to You. In this time of waiting, give us patient hearts and hopeful spirits. Remind us that Your mercy is greater than our worry, and that Your cross is stronger than our doubt. Be with the man we have called to be our pastor. Guide his heart. Lead our congregation. And help us all to trust in Your perfect timing. In Your holy name. Amen.

Blessings in Christ,
Pastor David Tilney, Vacancy Pastor
