MOMENT'S REFLECTION

"With many such parables he spoke the word to them, as they were able to hear it."

-Mark 6:33

Disciples of Jesus were often frustrated because Jesus taught the mysteries of the Kingdom through parables.

"What is the Kingdom of God like? It's like a sower who goes out to sow." Or again, "The Kingdom is like a grain of mustard seed." Each parable was an object lesson drawn from ordinary elements of daily living to teach a deeper truth. But to understand, you had to listen carefully—not only to the words Jesus spoke, but to the intended meaning of the words he spoke. And this frustrated eager disciples of Jesus. They weren't hard of hearing. They could hear his words. But they had difficulty comprehending what those words had to do with the Kingdom. Jesus often had to interpret.

From a teaching standpoint, at first glance, you might be inclined to say that Jesus' teaching wasn't effective. He spoke but few understood. And yet for Jesus, the process of learning was just as critical as the answer itself. And this is why Jesus chose to teach in parables. Each parable was an invitation, a sort of intellectual irritant that provoked the mind to stop and listen and to understand. A good parable engaged the hearer to further thinking. The parable required sustained attention. You couldn't simply repeat what Jesus said and get it. You had to ponder it. And insofar as you took the time to ponder it, you got it. And once you got, you gained entrance into the deeper mysteries of God's kingdom.

It seems to me that our drive-through culture has little patience for parables. We prefer direct speech and sound-bite instructions. Let me illustrate with a couple of parables of my own.

Parable #1: I was at the doctor's office waiting to have some lab work done to complete my annual physical. It had been a long week. I was tired. My nerves were a little frayed. It was early morning and I relished the opportunity to simply sit and be. But it was hard to think a thought. The waiting room was filled with the noise of two loud TV monitors and the morning talk shows. When I finally got into the lab room, I said to the lab tech, "Thank goodness there aren't any TV monitors in here." She said, "You don't like to watch TV?" I said, "Yes. But not all the time." She said, "So if you couldn't watch TV while you waited what would you do?"

Parable #2: My older brother and I were watching an NBA game. Minnesota Timberwolves and LA Lakers. The Timberwolves' coach died recently. Flip Saunders. After the introduction of players the arena lights were turned down, a picture of Flip Saunders and the words, "1955-2015" were put on the screen. The PA announcer said, "The basketball world has lost a truly great man and coach. In memory of Flip Saunders will you please join me in a moment of silence?" Just as the PA announcer finished speaking, the TV station left the live broadcast and the silence and the pondering darkness and went back to the chatty light-ness of the studio in New York, stealing this would-be moment of silence to squeeze in a few more words of analysis.

You'll no doubt ask me what these parables have to do with the Kingdom. Simply this: It's hard to hear any deep truth of Christ if you can't at least sit still long enough to listen for it, devote a minute or two to ponder it. The Psalmist put it this way: "Be still and know that I am God." -Dan

Christian Senior Helpers Raffle Fundraiser

CSH will be selling raffle tickets for a $100 Home Depot Gift Card to help raise funds to continue their incredible mission work in our community. You can buy one ticket for $1 or 11 tickets for $10. The drawing will be held at the Thanksgiving Luncheon on November 22nd. You can find the raffle station in the Fellowship Hall next to the lovely house cut-out that was painted by our children at the Fall Festival.

What is Christian Senior Helpers? CSH is a new mission initiative that FCCG started this past year. Our mission teams provide minor home repairs, maintenance and upkeep to local elderly individuals and families. These individuals are identified by the City of Garland Housing and Community Services Department as at-risk and in need. Many of the participants are unable to adequately provide the care for their homes that is needed due to low income, disability, or mobility and age limitations.

To date, we have completed three projects totaling a cost of over $1000. Our hope is to continue this program with monthly projects; however, our funds are depleted and we are in dire need of additional funds. This raffle will help start to raise some of these needed funds.

You can help by: Buying raffle tickets Offering additional monetary donations Participating in the mission projects

Your support of CSH is greatly appreciated!

FALL BIBLE STUDY

“Excellence: Learning to Run With the Horses”

Four Sunday Evenings Beginning October 11-November 8, 6:00pm-7:00pm (Cole Parlor);
Dr. Dan Leading.

This 4-week study will be a meditation on the life of the prophet Jeremiah. Jeremiah encountered difficulty in being faithful to God. He was ready to give up. But God challenged him: "If you have raced with men on foot, and they have worn you out, how will you compete with horses? If you stumble in safe country, how will you manage in the thickets by the Jordan?" (Jeremiah 12:5). This is a study to answer the question: “How can we live life courageously so as to run with the horses?”
