Qualities of a Leader

One of the things I'm most thankful for at Central is the quality of people who attend. Sure, we're far from perfect, but there are many with good character. Of course, anyone can say that they have good character, but action is the real indicator. Our character determines who we are. Who we are determines what we see. What we see determines what we do. That's why we can never separate our character from our actions. In his book, The 21 Indispensable Qualities of A Leader, John C. Maxwell tells the reader how a person can actually improve their character. He offers the following four suggestions when improvement is needed:

- 1. Search for the cracks. Spend some time looking at the major areas of your life (work, marriage, school, family, church, etc.), and identify any place you might have cut corners, compromised, or let people down. Write down every instance you can recall from the past two months.
- 2. Look for patterns. Examine the responses that you just wrote down. Is there a particular area where you have a weakness, or do you have a type of problem that keeps surfacing? Detectable patterns will help you diagnose character issues.
- 3. Face the music. The beginning of character repair comes when you face your flaws, apologize, and deal with the consequences of your actions. Create a list of people to whom you need to apologize for your actions, then follow through with sincere apologies.
- 4. Rebuild. It's one thing to face up to your past actions. It's another to build a new future. Now that you've identified any areas of weakness, create a plan that will prevent you from making the same mistakes again.

A man took his young daughter to a carnival, and she immediately ran over to a booth and asked for cotton candy. As the attendant handed her a huge ball of the sugar-filled treat, the father asked, "Sweetheart, are you sure you can eat all that?" "Don't worry, Dad," she answered, "I'm a lot bigger on the inside than on the outside."

Real character is being bigger on the inside. If you know someone like that you are extremely blessed. If you are someone like that you should be extremely grateful because remember the rule of the turtle on a fencepost. If you see a turtle on a fencepost, one thing you can know for sure is that he didn't get there by himself.

I hope you have a great summer. I encourage you to stay faithful to the Lord and to His church during the summer! Laura and I love you and appreciate all that you do for us and for the work of the Lord.

- Steve

GAME NIGHT

Friday, June 29th @ 6:30 Bring a board game and snacks to share. Come out for this Family event.

Summer is here 360 ministries will be doing a lot of awesome stuff that your student will not want to miss out on! So make sure you mark these dates on the calendar!

Ongoing throughout the summer

101 Bible Study: This will be taking place every Monday this summer from 1-2:00pm. This is going to be an opportunity where your student will have a chance to learn how to study the Bible. It will give them the tools to understand the Bible better so that they can grow deeper in faith.

Open Gym night: These will also be taking place on Mondays, but will be in the evenings from 6-8 p.m. This will give students the opportunity to hang out with friends and play basketball, roller skate, etc.

BYOL: This stands for Bring Your Own Lunch. This summer on Thursdays from 12:30-2:30pm students will be invited to come eat lunch at the church. This is going to be a time to eat lunch and then spend some time hanging out with friends.

We just want to thank everyone that came out to donate blood last Sunday as we had 24 donors. We exceeded our goal!!! Again, thanks for saving someone's life.

HIS KIDS

We are now taking registrations for His Kids enrollment in the fall. We are also looking for some teachers and substitutes.
