Rock-Solid Children's Ministry

When Jesus shared the story of the wise and foolish builders he made it very clear that anyone who listened and obeyed God's Word was building their lives on a sure foundation. When we serve children we have a significant opportunity to help children learn to listen to and obey God's Word. And as we intentionally teach our children to hear and obey God's Word, we are assuring that their lives will be blessed.

Today we will look at several necessary building blocks to help us develop rock-solid ministries—ministries that are founded in God's Word.

Lay a Solid Foundation

What is the foundation of ministry to children in your local church? How can a foundation for ministry be laid that will encourage and sustain effective ministry?

Discipleship Essentials

According to statistics, church-going kids aren't being disciplined. When they become teens they don't look at life from a biblical perspective and often do not make decisions based on biblical principles. But there are four discipleship essentials EVERY church can implement that will help our children become life-long followers of Jesus.

What's the Plan?

Many ministries to children focus on one week at a time. There is no plan for the month, the quarter or for the year. But intentional discipleship includes having a systematic plan for teaching Bible truth.

One Lesson at a Time

Systematic teaching of Bible truth happens one lesson at a time. Therefore, every children's minister must know how to develop a lesson that helps children recognize, understand and apply Bible truth to their lives.
