"For I am not ashamed of this Good News about Christ. It is the power of God at work, saving everyone who believes – the Jew first and also the Gentile. This Good News tells us how God makes us right in his sight. This is accomplished from start to finish by faith. As the Scriptures say, "It is through faith that a righteous person has life." Romans 1:16-17

Our family has been searching for a genuine church body for over a year since moving to Plant City. We are so thankful to experience GracePoint's love and compassion in our time of preparation for our second daughter.

Everyone that we have interacted with has been so caring not only in speech, but action. Thank you so much for welcoming us with the love of Christ and such a sweet gesture of diapers, wipes, and baby goodies! So grateful we found you!

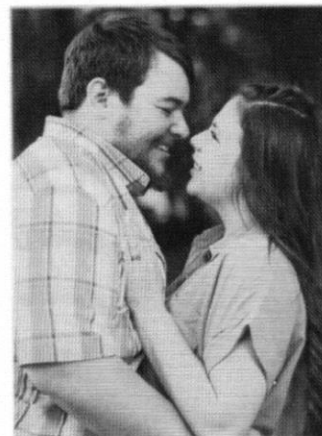

Sebastian, Serenity, Katillina, and Aurora Ball

QUOTES TO PONDER

"Have I not commanded you? Be strong and courageous. Do not be afraid; do not be discouraged, for the LORD your God will be with you wherever you go." – Joshua 1:9

"Therefore do not be anxious about tomorrow, for tomorrow will be anxious for itself. Sufficient for the day is its own trouble." – Matt. 6:34

"There is no fear in love. But perfect love drives out fear, because fear has to do with punishment. The one who fears is not made perfect in love." 1 John 4:18

"But now, this is what the Lord says...Fear not, for I have redeemed you; I have summoned you by name; you are mine." Isaiah 43:1

P2P (PASTOR TO PEOPLE) Do Emotions Matter to God?

PSALMS: EMOTIONS BEFORE GOD

Today we will start our Summer in the Psalms series. The Psalms are a wonderful gift to the church as they provide us with a whole host of emotions. From fear, anxiety, depression, anger, frustration, hope, joy, distress, and many more the Psalms are the gateway to leading us to prayers filled with emotions. Alasdair Groves writes the following regarding emotions:

"Do your emotions define you?"

If you answer 'yes,' you have a bit of a biblical problem: Nothing about your identity in Christ, eternal life, forgiveness for sins, or purpose as a member of God's family rests on your emotions. Your emotions can't possibly define you more fundamentally than these things do. Right?

However, if you answer 'no,' you also have a problem with Scripture's teaching: The Bible shows over and over again that our emotions flow from what we love and worship. This is why those who love the Lord, his people, and his kingdom can actually rejoice in the face of persecution (Matt. 5:11-12), ridicule (1 Pet. 4:12-14), and even physical assault for the sake of the gospel (Acts 5:40-42). It's also why those who love comfort, reputation, wealth, or any other false hope, will rejoice in things that grieve God (1 Tim. 4:3-4) and hate what he loves (Jer. 2:20). In short, if our emotions flow from what we treasure, how can they not define us in a significant way? Right?

Our emotions don't define us in the sense of undercutting God's definition of us. But they do define us in that they reveal and express our heart's ultimate loyalties. Because neither of these biblical realities can be minimized, our emotions are neither the most important thing about us, something to be worshiped, nor are they the least important, a problem to be avoided or ignored."

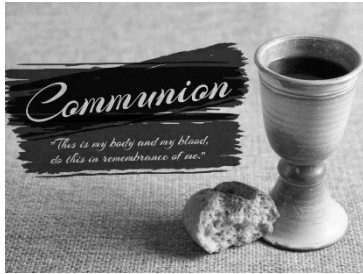

So as we head into the summer months let us take heed what God's word has to say to us about emotions.

Much grace,
Pastor Robert
