MOMENT'S REFLECTION

"God said {to the Satan Angel}, 'All right. Good ahead—you can do what you like with him. But mind you, don't kill him.'" -Job 2:6 (The Message)

As a pastor I'm often asked some of the same questions. One of the more frequent ones: "Is God punishing me for something?" And I always say, "No. Nothing in the New Testament makes me believe that the God revealed in Jesus Christ acts this way." Yet as the sufferings of life pile up, I can tell that some good, faithful Christians aren't sure.

Ran across the following cartoon in a recent The New Yorker magazine (December 7, 2015). The cartoon's caption gives whimsical credence to what some of us already think:

"At first, I was teaching Job a lesson, but now I'm just messing with him."

Still, the answer is "No." God doesn't really choose to mess with us like this. Perhaps God uses the situation to teach a lesson, but God doesn't invoke intentional suffering to make a point.

Nevertheless, if you find yourself hung up with God, or God knows who else (think: spouse, friend, co-worker, the crazy driver in front of you), consider this little admonition from a recent Prevention Magazine, "Bury Your Hatchets, Fight Your Blues," (December 2015). "Letting resentment brew and stew is depressing. Literally. Now a study in Aging and Mental Health confirms that those who practice forgiveness (even with God!) end up with better mental health." The article goes on to say, "The best part is you don't have to tell the object of your anger, petty or otherwise, you've made amends. Just (poof!) let bygones be bygones." -Dan, Advent 2015

Garland Overnight Warming Station (GLOWS)

The City of Garland has approximately 150 individuals and 800+ families who are considered homeless. When cold winter weather hits these people may have nowhere to go to escape the cold. The City of Garland experiences about 33 nights a year where temperatures fall below freezing. There currently are no shelters or facilities to house people when temperatures become dangerously cold. The GLOWS coalition has put together a plan for providing emergency housing for individuals and families who are homeless. This plan includes a heated space for overnight accommodations, as well as, provisions for dinner and breakfast. The warming station, at the local Salvation Army, will be open when forecasted temperature is 32 degrees with a 20% chance of precipitation or a standing temperature of 25 degrees. The station will open by 6:00pm and will close the following morning by 8:00am unless dangerous conditions continue.

Volunteers are needed to assist with transportation, hospitality and security. There are various shifts available. If you are interested in volunteering or learning more about GLOWS, attend the upcoming Training/Information Session or talk to Rev. Casey Tanguay. GLOWS Training/Information Meeting will be held on Saturday, December 5th from 2:00pm-4:30pm, at Matthew 25:40 Project; 2118 Wall Street #800; Garland, TX 75041

VOLUNTEERS NEEDED FOR MEALS ON WHEELS

We are in need of additional volunteers if our church is going to continue our ministry to the community in which we live! We deliver meals to homebound individuals every Monday. Each volunteer only delivers one day a month with a time commitment of approximately 2 hours. We currently need volunteers (one or two people) to deliver the second Monday of each month, and volunteers (one or two people) to deliver meals the third

Monday of each month. Our route is easy to learn (maps are provided) and training will be provided the first time you deliver (one of our experienced volunteers will go with you). Coolers containing the meals for each route are delivered to First Presbyterian Church, located around the corner from our church, by 10:15am each day. Routes consist of one cooler filled with hot meals and one cooler containing cold items. After delivery of our route the empty coolers are returned to First Presbyterian for pickup.

Delivering meals through the Meals on Wheels program is one of the outreach ministries in which our church is involved. This is a program set up to provide a hot, nutritious midday meal to those individuals unable to prepare a meal for themselves. The people who receive this benefit are appreciative of the care and time given to them. For some, this is the only source of food they eat daily. We would like to continue our support of this worthwhile program by providing volunteers to cover a route each Monday.

I can guarantee you'll receive more than you give from this wonderful ministry to our community! Please contact Elaine Roeger at 972.926.1074 to volunteer or with any questions.
